PROPER GRE STUDYING CHECKLIST

Scheduling

To crush the GRE, you have a lot of work ahead of you, so plan accordingly. Design a schedule that allows for consistent training. EMPOWERgre suggests 3 nights/week if you work, and two four-hour blocks each weekend.

Conditions

Quiet settings; distraction free (as best as you can create); headphones; snacks; water. You'll also want to use a desktop computer if you can, since the official exam is also on a desktop Human posture varies between laptop and desktop use.

Study Duration: 30 & 35 Minute blocks + 10 Min Break

Ideally, all sessions should be the same length as a GRE section, or series of sections. Divide your sessions into 65 minute increments with a break.

Notebook

Keep track of your progress, and particularly your mistakes. Use the Mistake Tracker to locate patterns within your mistakes, both in terms of tactics and content

Standard of Learning

Successful GRE test-takers not only know the concepts, but they also know how to apply them. By the time you sit for the real exam, you should know the content well enough so that you could teach it.

SCORE BOOSTER STUDY PLAN

The Score Booster TOTAL Study Plan is for those who have already prepped with other courses, or even self-prepped. This plan will save you some time compared to the 1-Month Study Plan because it leverages a working familiarity with the GRE. The plan requires about 20 hours per week over a one month period to complete, although you can feel free to give it more time if need be, or skip areas you're already 90%+ accurate. If there's any doubt about an area though, we suggest you do the module(s).
